Northerner Campaign Ends

After a hard-fought, close race between the "Waves" and the "Breakers," the NORTHERNER campaign came to an end on Sunday evening, December 11, after being postponed from December 2. The campaign started on November 14, as was described in the last issue of the NORTHERNER, and the subs began coming in. Over the weekend of November 25-27, many of the students went home and when they returned to Maplewood, they had received many subs from their relatives and friends. The goal had been set for 1,000 subs, but the final score was nearly 850, including the student subs. Apparently, we did not work quite hard enough, or there was not enough of us who really shouldered the load for we didn't reach our goal.

When all was done, the "Breakers" showed up with the largest number of subs. The first prize of $5.00 was awarded to Arlene Campbell for her work in obtaining twenty-one subs. Dick Roderick and Earl Jenkins tied for the second prize of $3.00, so duplicate prizes were awarded to them. There was no one eligible for the third prize of $2.00. The students who received at least 10 subs were awarded an extra day on the Christmas vacation. The following students will receive that prize: Gloria Anderson, Elaine Berglin, Arlene Campbell, Luella Carlson, Carol Christensen, Jim Curry, Loren Dickinson, Elaine Hanson, Donald Howes, Earl Jenkins, Alice Larson, Frances Larson, Eleanor LeBard, Jerry Pettis, Dick Roderick, Wayne Schwerin, Floyd Swanson, Marjorie Ward, LaDonna Zempel, Norma Jean Carter and Laura Nielsen.

The losing side will entertain the winning side at an ice cream party in the near future. All those who received at least 4 subs will be eligible to attend this entertainment.

"School Daze" Featured

December 4, 1949, is now in the past, but it is far from being forgotten, for it was on this evening that the young ladies of West Hall held their annual Open House. The theme, "School Daze," which was woven into the evening's activities was well-chosen, and was enjoyed by all.

At 7:15 o'clock everyone met in the gym, where the guests were sent out in groups to tour the rooms, which from all indications had undergone some thorough cleaning, and were in tip-top shape. The girls should be congratulated for their hard work and good house-keeping. After touring the rooms, the groups were ushered into the Seminar room where ice cream with raspberry topping and some delicious cake was served by smiling hostesses who did all they could to make everyone happy. The rest of the entertainment was carried on in the gym.

The program consisted of the day's study assignments. Nanette White, club president, conducted the opening exercises and gave the assignments for the day. They were as follows:

Biology — "Gloworm" Eleanor LeBard and her trumpet.

Auto Mechanics—"Ma and the Auto." Humorous reading by Joan Bitzer.

Geography — "Beautiful Ohio." Sally Nelson and Eleanor LeBard on clarinet and trumpet.

Bookkeeping — "Keeping Office for Papa." Humorous reading by Norma Jean Carter.

Botany—"Narcissus" clarinet solo by Laurell Peterson.

Social Problems—"Let Me Call You Sweetheart," vocal duet by Donna Carlson and Arlene Campbell.

Visual Education — A model school conducted by Barbara Barnort.

As we look back on this enjoyable evening, one can't help but look forward to next year when West Hall will again open its doors for inspection.

—Ted Burgeson

Gleams of Gold

"I'd like to buy a ticket on the 'New Jerusalem Limited,' please." This might be one of several people talking to the conductor, Clair Barnhart, in the Missionary Volunteer meeting of November 19. Although some could not go to Heaven because they could not lay aside their worldly pleasures and jobs, everyone taught a lesson on what the Lord wants us to do about amusement, dress, and positions in this world. Frances Larson sang, "Is Your All on the Altar?" Eleanor LeBard played "The Holy City" on her trumpet.

Dr. Teesdale, president of the Home Study Institute in Washington, D. C., was the guest speaker of Nov. 19. Everyone enjoyed the messages he brought to us during the Vesper Service Friday evening and the church service on Sabbath.

Although most of the students were gone for the weekend of November 26, everyone that remained enjoyed hearing Mr. Stone speak Friday evening and Sabbath.

We were all very glad to have some members of the Union College School of Nursing with us on December 3. Miss Smith of Boulder, Colorado, gave a very inspiring talk for Vespers, and Prof. Welch spoke during the church service Sabbath morning. Wayne Dunks, another member of this group, sang a solo for the M. V. meeting.

Elder J. E. Curry spoke Friday evening and Sabbath, December 9 and 10. He spoke on the colporteur work.

A model Bible Study was given by Eleanor LeBard to Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and Jeannie for M. V. meeting December 10.

—Joyce Kaldahl

Union College School of Nursing

We were greatly privileged recently to have a group of visitors from Union College and also from Union College School of Nursing. Miss Alice Smith, supervisor of the Clinical Division at Boulder, spoke at Vesper service about the great need of leaders in the world today. She gave us the qualifications of the leaders, using Gideon's experience as an illustration. She told us, also, of the great need for nurses and doctors now as never before. On Saturday evening, the

Choir of 40 Voices Directed By Mr Hill

The Maplewood Academy Vested Choir presented the annual candlelight service on Sunday evening, December 18. This being the outstanding musical event of the year, we feel sure that all who were fortunate enough to be present considered it a musical treat. It was very evident that many hours were spent in practicing for this program. The choir is under the direction of Mr. Milo Hill, director of music of the Academy. The program consisted of several selections by the choir, and "Overture to the Messiah" by Mrs. Edwall, the organ teacher. From a distance a trumpet trio played the Triumphant march from "Aida" as the choir marched in and took their places on the platform. The choir then sang "Ring Christmas Bells" by Leontovich, and the "Glory of the Lord" from the Messiah by Handel. Mary Jo Osvoild and the choir sang "Behold a Virgin shall conceive" and "On Thou That Tellest." Donna Carlson and Arlene Campbell, with the choir response, sang "Noel" by MacMichael. The choir sang "Jubilate" by Howorth, "Jesu Bambino" by Pietro Yon, "Adoramus Te" by Palestrina, and "The Sleep of the Child Jesus," an old French Noel. "Pastoral Symphony" from the "Messiah" was played by the string choir. Clair Barnhart, Merlin Reeder, and Louis Stearns then sang "We Three Kings of Orient Are."

"He Shall Feed His Flocks" and "Come Unto Me," both from the Messiah, were sung by Mary Jo Osvoild and Donna Carlson. To conclude the program, the choir sang "Brother James" and "Praise Ye the Name of the Lord." The narration for the program was given by Elder Dyre Dyresen, Bible teacher for the Academy, and George P. Stone, superintendent, offered the invocation.

It's Christmas time. The time of the year when each heart should overflow with the desire to lend a helping hand to anyone in need. Too often it is a hectic time of commercialism, with everyone rushing about trying to buy articles, useful or otherwise, which they can ill afford, for others who do not need them, and often do not appreciate them.

The best story of the year for the Northerner or any other paper would be that of an act of kindness by anyone to someone who cannot repay in kind, and indeed no return gift is expected. Where is that unselfish soul who would invest in a little Christmas good-will? "Cast your bread on the waters". It may be that it will gladden your heart by returning to you all spread with fresh country butter.
 —M. W. Hill

KEEPING CHRISTMAS

... There is a better thing than the observance of Christmas Day, and that is, keeping Christmas.

Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to thing what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; to see that your fellowmen are just as real as you are, and try to look behind their faces to their hearts, hungry for joy; to own that probably the only reason for your existence is not what you are going to get out of life, but what you are going to give to life; to close your book of complaints against the management of the universe, and look around you for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness—are you willing to do these things for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

* * * * *

Are you willing to believe that love is the strongest thing in the world—stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death—and that the blessed life which began in Bethlehem nineteen hundred years ago is the image and brightness of the Eternal Love? Then you can keep Christmas.

And if you keep it for a day, why not always?
 But you can never keep it alone.

—Henry Van Dyke

William I. Rankin

Faculty Personalities

In the Northerner this year, we want to introduce to you some of the members of the Maplewood staff. This time we would like to have you meet our Dean of Boys, Mr. William I. Rankin. This congenial, good-natured gentleman comes from Texas, that great big state that "you-all" have heard about many times. Mr. Rankin takes good care of his forty-six Knights of East Hall, or should I say they take good care of him? Mr. Rankin teaches American History and boys' physical education this semester and will add the teaching of Speech the second semester. He has charge of the gym and serves on several faculty committees, so we don't worry too much about his spare time.

He likes to read, and that hobby combined with the fact that he once lived in a log cabin in south Texas, probably accounts for his ability to teach history. At least, we would say that he has a good background. Mr. Rankin attended Southwestern Junior College for one year, spent two years in the United States Navy, and then went to Union to finish his college work. In the fall after his graduation from Union, he came to Maplewood, bringing with him a certain young lady whom he had convinced that she would rather be a dean's wife than a church school teacher. By the way, Mr. Rankin likes sweet potatoes!

Workers' Meeting

On November 22 and 23 the workers of the Minnesota Conference were the guests of Maplewood Academy. These workers meet twice a year to discuss methods of evangelism, promotion of campaigns in the churches—and some social visiting. There are twenty-three districts in the Minnesota Conference, each headed by a district pastor. Each district has from one to half a dozen churches depending upon the members. The district man represents the conference to the churches, and the churches to the conference. It is therefore important that they meet occasionally to "talk shop."

We students were interested too. We got a chance to meet our own pastors and talk over things with them. Last, but not least, quite a few of us went with our district pastors home for the Thanksgiving vacation. Anyhow, we are glad to have them with us and hope they will return to Maplewood next time they meet again.

In the last few weeks we have been favored by two cello solos. In Sabbath school, November 19, Barbara Vanderlaan played for us, and on December 2 at Vesper Carol Christensen played her cello. Clair Barnhart sang for church on November 19 and at Vesper, Vernon Parker played a piano solo, "Theme to Finlandia" by Sibelius.

We were favored by the Symphonette playing the "Pilgrim's Chorus" for Sabbath school, December 3.

Wayne Dunks, from Boulder, Colorado, sang "Somebody Cares" for the Missionary Volunteer meeting on December 3.

Eleanor Lebard, Marilyn Simpson, Bob Verlo, Dick Carlson and Dick Roderick went to Minneapolis to hear the University Band recently.

The weekend of December 9-10, the special music was a piano solo by Iris Hansen at the Vesper hour and a piano solo by Norma Carter for Sabbath school.

LYCEUM NUMBERS

The students and faculty of Maplewood have enjoyed two lyceum numbers since the last issue of the NORTHERNER. On November 19, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howell of Springfield, Tennessee entertained us with the old art of glass-blowing. Mr. Howell told us many things about the art that has been handed down from generation to generation, and as he worked, he told us each step of his work. He explained to us how hot his fire was, and all about this old art, until we actually thought that maybe it wouldn't be so hard to do. Bob Blake, senior science major, volunteered to go up on the platform and try his hand at glass-blowing. The glass bubble that he made wasn't quite as round as those that Mr. Howell made. Mr. Howell showed us how Christmas decorations are made, and he also made a stork, a small dinner bell, and a Dutch peace pipe. He left all these objects here and they are now on display in the science room.

On the evening of December 10, the Parkinson Ensemble, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schultz, appeared with their annual program of the history of musical instruments. This time they entertained us with the history of the flute and the organ. They showed us how these two instruments have developed through the years. Mr. Parkinson owns the largest collection of ancient playable instruments in the world. Many of these instruments have come from foreign countries. The two young people in this ensemble closed the program with the playing of twelve old favorite selections, depicting each hour around the clock.

WHAT WE DON'T WANT FOR CHRISTMAS

Loren Dickinson: "More height."

"Doug" Hill: "No more weight please!" (We agree).

Lennie Colson: "No points in an official basketball game!"

Miss Lane: "I don't want any more work than I have."

Miss Larsen: "A new electric iron (I just bought one)."

George Newmeyer: "I don't want to see any unfrozen water; I want to go ice skating."

Miss Williams: "Sickness."

Flossie Stark: "I don't want any trouble with the faculty (or anybody else)."

Lois Daniels: "No more calories."

Marilyn Simpson: "No more oral reports in English III class."

Ivy Rushold: "Stinking old cheap perfume!"

Bruce McKellip: "I don't want any more A's in World History." (Ha!)

"Tillie" Thulin: "I don't want any hair to grow any longer."

Arlene Campbell: "I don't want Louie to go to Florida for Christmas vacation!"

Loren Wuttke: "I don't want any more of those free passes to G. O. Club."

Joy Ann Hokanson: "I don't want any eyelashes." (That's pretty evident.)

Mr. Gilbert: "Bridges and bifocals. (New ones, that is)."

We Saw You There

If you who are described in the following paragraphs can successfully identify yourself to the editor of the NORTHERNER or to Miss Larsen, you will be awarded a candy bar. If some other individual is able to reach us before you, we will award him the candy bar. (The person described in last month's WE SAW YOU THERE was John Petras. Charlie Russell identified him and received the candy bar.)

o We saw you in the library at five o'clock on a Wednesday afternoon. You are not in the "Golden Opportunity" club, but you come to the library quite often during the afternoon study period. You were wearing a green and white striped dress, trimmed with red ric-rac. You were wearing white anklets and brown and white saddle oxfords. Your hair is light brown, your eyes are not blue, and you wear glasses. You seem to be a very studious little girl, and we do mean "little," for you really aren't very tall. At the time we saw you in the library, you were wearing a red sweater, and when you left the library, a few minutes after five, you took all your books with you, indicating that you are not careless about your books.

Your name is .....
Well, you tell us and we will give you a candy bar.

Seniors on Parade

Shirley Hansen—

This smiling violinist came to Maplewood from Ruthven, Iowa, two years ago. She tells us she likes all of her classes, but guesses she likes English better than the rest. Her pet peeve is people who cheat or "show off" in class. Stamp collecting is the hobby of this second-floor monitor. Apple pie a-la-mode rates highest in foods, even though she likes almost anything you give her. Shirley informs us that she plans to attend Union College next year, and hopes to be a missionary some day.

Jerry Pettis—

Jerry is a strong young man of five feet ten inches. He has brown hair and blue eyes. He comes from Minneapolis, Minnesota. When asked if he plays a musical instrument he replied, "the eardrum and shoehorn." However, he isn't in Symphonette yet. He enjoys playing Ping Pong and baseball. He is a faithful printer in our print shop, and would like to take up printing as his lifework. Jerry has a word and a cheery smile for everyone. His favorite food is pecan pie with whipped cream. His pet peeve is the faculty continually saying, "Move on." We wonder why?

Laura Nielsen—

Laura comes to Maplewood from Spicer, Minnesota. She is 5' 2" tall, has blue eyes, and brown hair. She enjoys swimming and tobogganning very much. When asked what food she likes best, she immediately replied, "Oh, spaghetti." Laura plans to take up nursing at Walla Walla, where we're sure she'll be a success.

David Larson—

Dave says he's from Wilton, Minnesota. He's one of the hard-working fellows who works in the Craftshop and likes it very well. His hobby is hunting and fishing but "a fellow hasn't much time for that down here," Dave says. For his life work he is planning to take up some line of medical work.

Good luck to you, Dave.

Alice Larson

Alice is another of our fine seniors from Minneapolis. This is her first year at Maplewood and she seems to be enjoying it greatly. She says that blueberry pie a-la-mode will suit her at almost any time. Although Santa Claus has not brought her roller skates to her, she claims this is her favorite sport. Alice has no plans to enter college. When Alice was asked about her hobby, she said, "I have no hubby yet; pardon me, I mean hobby."

:- STRAY CHIPS :-

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rushold and Patty of Minneapolis visited Ivy on December 4 and enjoyed the Open House program on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Rea of Minneapolis visited Elaine Berglin, Barbara Barnort and Althea Rea on December 1. She brought her sewing machine with her and recovered a chair for the girls while she was here. It looked very nice in their room for Open House.

Mrs. Loren Pettis of Minneapolis visited her son, Jerry, on Sabbath afternoon, December 10.

Elder Dyresen is the proud owner of a new 1950 Ford.

New steps are being put in by the Maintenance department in the stairway leading to the dining room on the boys' side.

Two new pairs of spectacles have been added to the girls' dormitory recently. Their owners are Donna Burghart and Nanette White.

The Christmas spirit has been greatly increased by the decorations in the parlor of West Hall, especially the pretty Christmas tree.

Barbara Vanderlaan didn't seem to mind her short stay in the Hutchinson Community Hospital recently because she had visitors every day, and one night all the girls went down and sang for her outside of her window. She came back to West Hall within just a few days, minus her appendix.

Just a word of thanks to our Dean, Miss Duffie, for all the help she gave us girls in preparing for our Open House recently.

The members of the Vested Choir have really been busy recently, practicing for the annual Candlelight program to be given December 18. They have been having rehearsals two or three times daily, besides their individual practices.

One day two of the students walked up to Mr. Jackson who was standing at his class room door and one of them said, looking up to him, "Don't you think he's funny?" The other student also looked up at Mr. Jackson and laughed. Mr. Jackson just looked way-y-y down at the two with a big grin on his face. Funny, isn't he?

The boys have a new door to separate their dormitory from the main hall on first floor.

Iris Hanson had a tonsillectomy while she was at home over Thanksgiving.

The girls of West Hall appreciated the visit of Mrs. Alvin Kiley of St. Paul in a very special way, because she helped make red plaid "trimmings" for the play room on fourth floor. It looks very nice. Thank you, Mrs. Kiley.

Matt Steiner of Anoka was one of the many visitors at Open House on December 4.

Just think! Christmas vacation is almost here!

Julian Denler is now advertising L.P. on his lapel; it means "Long Playing" records.

Heard in Spanish II class—
Student: (referring to the gender of nouns) Why do mountains have to be women? (feminine gender)
Teacher: It must be because they are so great and mighty.
—No more comment!

Miss Duffie told the girls in worship one night that they should not disturb anyone after the study period starts by calling to the monitors from their rooms; that they should just slip a note under the door and the monitor would see it and run the errand for them. That night the first note that Peggy picked up read: "I need a drink of water because I'm very thirsty, but I don't have a glass. What do you suggest?" Signed, Janet.

Dick Thompson sent his clothes out to the laundry to be washed. On his laundry slip he stated that he wanted his "quarter roys" cleaned. Don't you suppose he meant "corduroys"?

The girls of West Hall really enjoy having their dormitory looking so nice. They appreciate the interest that Miss Duffie takes in their home.

Mr. Johnson, Bob Blake, and Mavis Godfrey had the handicaps of sprained ankles this week. They are all three "up and about again."

The new pencil sharpener in the library is out of order, sad to say!

The girls in the Home Ec. class have given "Pinkey" a new nickname, "Lim." If you are curious about it, ask Joy Ann for some information.

This was a short game, played December 13. The game didn't start so well for the MAPLELEAFS. The score at the end of the first quarter was 7-0, in favor of the MAPLELOGGERS; but at the half, it was 11-5, in the LOGGERS' favor. At the end of the third quarter, it was 15-11, LOGGERS' favor and then the LEAFS tied the game 15-15 and 17-17, but the LOGGERS made three baskets and they won 23-17. Floyd Swanson was high-point man in this game, too, with 15 points. He now has a 16 point average for 3 games. Burgeson, Roderick, and Hill are next with a 6 point average.

East Hall

K.E.H.
Had you been present at our last few K.E.H. meetings you would have heard some lively discussions about a variety of subjects, such as skating rinks, club projects, feeds, programs, club entertainments—yes, even the coming boys' Open House is mentioned once in a while.

We have definitely decided to have an ice skating rink this winter. Some of the boys have started banking the snow for its boundaries, and soon will have the Hutchinson fire department come up and flood it. The girls' club is helping us with the financial arrangements for the rink and we expect them to help us use it, too.

For our club project this semester we are purchasing curtains for the windows on the landings on our stairway. Work has been started on a sign to be placed at the entrance of East Hall. Floyd Swanson and Julian Denler have been working on it with Mr. Rankin doing the lettering on it. It will soon be completed and hung over the entrance.

That Was The Year . . .

The first musical recital for the year was held November 11. In glancing over the program, we notice that Mrs. Robert Firth (Morna Lequier) played in a piano trio, and that Mr. Firth played a clarinet solo on the same program.

The Young Men's Seminar was first organized on November 13, and one of the officers was Robert Firth as chorister.

The Maplewood Vocal Ensemble presented the cantata, "Childe Jesus," on Sunday evening, December 17.

The Parkinson Instrumental Trio gave a concert on the night of November 13 in the year 1939. It is interesting to note that their program that year consisted of the history of the reed instruments, such as clarinet, oboe, bassoon, flute, and bag pipe.

The business office and bakery were remodeled that year.

The Senior class basketball team beat the Junior team in a hard-fought game. The final score was 20-15.

From the December issue of the NORTHERNER of 1939, we take the following poem, written by Violet Andrus:

I think that I shall never see
A subject worse than Chemistry
Chemistry whose weighty problems rest
Upon the students' heaving breast
Valences of atoms glare at me by day
In dreamland phosphates assail
my way
Chemistry that may a semblance bear
To a fiendish demon to beware
Nitrates and carbonates jiggle in my brain
Until I almost go insane.
Poems are made by fools like me
But only the wise get Chemistry.

Union College School of Nursing

group presented an interesting program, at which time Miss Ellen McCormack, a student nurse at Boulder, gave a talk about the advantages of attending a College School of Nursing under the four-year plan.

Mr. Wayne Dunks, one of the men in training at Boulder, explained the great need for men in the field of nursing. He read from the writings of Ellen G. White of how more men would enter the field of nursing.

Miss Smith then showed some pictures of the Boulder campus, and after the program she answered the questions of the girls who are interested in nursing. From the response to this program, we would judge that there will be a great number of nurses in the future from Maplewood Academy.

—Lennart Colson
