Sneezers Awarded Northerner Trophy Cup

Glass Blower Presents Lyceum

Chapel Chatter

Our chapel program on September 29 was an interesting one, for we had two visitors that day. Elder H. A. Brown of Washington, D. C., and Elder E. F. Finck of St. Paul told us about the plans for the Temperance contest this year, which will be held sometime during the first semester. The same generous prizes will be offered this year for the best orations, essays, fables, and posters as in former years.

In his chapel talk on October 1, Mr. Butherus gave us some pointers on effective study and how important it is in our school life. "You need to learn how to study effectively," he said, "in order to get good grades and make something of your school life." Learning to be a good listener in classes is one way to make your student life of more worth to you, too.

A trip to Canada was in store for us on October 4 as Mr. Hill gave his illustrated travelogue. He made a trip to the "wilds" of Canada this summer, and he showed some pictures of his trip. It was very interesting. Mr. Davis told us about the segregation in schools

Our second lyceum of this year was held in the chapel October 2. Charles Mapel, who is a glass blower, entertained us. He has shown his display in many state fairs and sportmen's shows. His wife and children also practice this art, which is slowly going out of existence. As he was making the glass articles, he told many stories and superstitions about glass blowing. He also told us the origin of glass blowing and glass knitting. Many people have believed that this art is very harmful to the artist's health, but Mr. Mapel told us that it doesn't affect his health at all. He made several articles during his lecture, which were a hob-nailed pitcher, bird bath with two miniature birds, and a glass vase. We all enjoyed it very much.

The Student Council entertained us October 9. The entertainment had been planned for the outdoors, but since it rained, the evening was spent in the gym. At 6:30 everyone was invited to the gym to watch a basketball game between the seniors and the juniors, which the seniors won. After the game everyone put on their skates and skated and played a few games. First of all we marched on skates and after that we played

Gleams of Gold

Come, we that love the Lord,
And let our joys be known;
Join in a song with sweet accord,
And thus surround the throne.
We're marching to Zion!

Yes, friends, the church is marching steadily onward to Zion. It is up to you whether or not you march "in step" or not. To be in harmony with the eternal plan of God, we must endeavor to follow the Director of this great band. This Director is none other than Jesus Christ, our Savior, who will, if we will but ask Him, lead us on the straight and narrow way that leads to life eternal.

This was the theme of Elder Murphy's sermon as he spoke to us on Sabbath, October 9. It was brought to our minds that all people on this earth are either marching to Zion or drifting into oblivion. It is up to us to choose our course. Eternal life rewards a right decision, but death awaits those who do not follow God's plan to the best of their ability. We should be proud to stand on the side of truth with others who are not ashamed of the Cross of Jesus, or not afraid to die that it might be glorified.

Elder Murphy told us that we are not without a guide. We are marching under the "spot light of prophecy." We have seen prophecy fulfilled, and by this we may know that it has stood the test of time, and that its authorship is of God.

We were brought, in channels of thought, through the seven periods that the church has passed through since the apostolic times, to the present. We are living under the seventh or Laodicean period, and the Lord has a special work for us as He had for all the churches. Are we going to accept

GEORGE FISCHER WINS GRAND PRIZE

George Fischer, junior from Minneapolis, carried off the grand prize of a Pony camera by securing forty-two subscriptions to the NORTHERNER in the recent subscription campaign. The contest began in chapel on Wednesday, September 22, and ended on Sunday evening, October 17. The Wheezers (the boys) and the Sneezers (the girls) have worked hard during these few weeks, and the final results were announced in the gym during play period on October 17. The seventy-five Sneezers gathered in 363 subs, making a per capita of 4.84 per Sneezer. The boys succeeded in getting 229 subs, or a per capita of 3.57 for the Wheezers. Excitement was great as Jan Zempel, president of Crescit Eundo, accepted the trophy cup for the girls of West Hall. The girls, having won the trophy for two consecutive years, will keep it in West Hall as a permanent possession now.

As we go to press, the grand total of subs is 752, just a little short of the goal which we had hoped to reach. A few more subs will probably be received in the mail within the next few days. The four individual prizes will be awarded in chapel sometime this week. All those who have received at least five subs will be given a special award for their work. We want to thank all who subscribed to our school paper this year. We hope you will enjoy reading the news from Maplewood from month to month. You have made us happy by your loyal support. Thank you again.

Several of the students visited their homes over the weekend of October 16.

GUEST EDITORIAL

While I was living in Colorado a few years ago, a lady said to me, "Are you going on that hike to the mountains tonight?" I said, "No." Then she said, "You will never like heaven." "Oh, yes, I will," I said, "I will like the people there because I like the people here." I think we all like to go back to the old home town or home church. Did you ever go back to the home state camp meeting? There you meet all those good people, shake hands with them, tell them how glad you are to see them, and have them tell you how glad they are to see you. Then we sing those good old songs like "We shall know as we are known", "Someone will enter the pearly gates. Shall you? Shall I?"

Oh, friends, that makes me think of heaven. I know we will be glad to meet our friends and loved ones there. One of the nice things about getting older is to know so many people that are going to enter those pearly gates. We read the "Review" at our house and we always enjoy reading about doctors, nurses, preachers, and teachers everywhere in this world that we have known when they were boys and girls in school.

Here at Maplewood we have a chance to meet and work with so many interesting young people, to watch them grow and develop into men and women that will be leaders of God's work tomorrow. After a few years, we will be looking for their names in the "Review", and then we will say, "Oh, yes, they were at Maplewood while we were there." We all know that before long "the roll will be called up yonder" and we all want to be there. Let us be faithful so that we may meet and greet our friends and loved ones in that beautiful land called heaven.

J. Adams

Now that the first six weeks' examinations are over, it is a good time to sit down and take an inventory of our first period's work. Are my grades as good as they could be? What might I have done to make them a little better? Perhaps I should have studied more or perhaps I didn't pay as close attention in class as I could have. My grades are a reflection of the use, proper or improper, that I have made of my time. Time is a talent but few of us realize that it is one of the most precious talents that God has given us. In Christ's Object Lessons, we read "Our time belongs to God. Every moment is His, and we are under the most solemn obligation to improve it to His glory. Of no talent He has given will He require a more strict account than of our time."

Let us strive to make better use of our time these coming days, weeks, and months of school that our record may be even better than it was this time.

"Musical Chair." A very interesting film was shown about Australia's animals and sea life. Two comic movies were shown, which kept us laughing.

The moral of the last comic was girls! Your Sir Galahad should have big ears!

I'm sure we all enjoyed the evening.

that has been causing so much trouble in the southern states. His chapel talk on this timely subject was given Friday, October 8.

The Maplewood Academy Board members visited chapel on Monday, October 11, and several of them gave short talks. A film, "10,000 feet deep," was shown in chapel on Wednesday, October 13.

Clublicity

Crecuit Eundo:

I want to tell everyone about the pleasant times we've had in our girls' club this year so far. Let's see, since the last issue of the NORTHERNER, we have met three times, beginning with the Thursday evening, September 24. After having had a few weeks to become acquainted with everyone, we decided to write our opinions of the boys that night.

October 1, we had worship in the parlor and skated in the gym afterwards. But before we could skate, each of us wrote one NORTHERNER letter because we girls are planning to win the campaign.

On October 7, the last meeting of the girls' club, we had worship in the Seminar room before going to the gym to play a few games.

Nursing Club:

Miss Smith, the director of nurses at Boulder Sanitarium was here and talked to us about nursing. She gave us a little idea of the schedule of the student nurse, expenses, etc.

After we had gathered this information, the Nursing club was organized, and we chose our officers. Harriet Jones was elected president; Clara Roberts, the vice president; secretary, Kathy Spencer; treasurer, Ruth Farnes. Last but not least, our sponsor, Mrs. Leland Torkelsen.

Every Thursday afternoon we have the gym for activities, which are planned by our club officers.

We have great hopes and high ambitions for the members of our club. "And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people." (Matthew 4:23).

Taking Jesus as our example it is our desire to heal the sick with the help of the Great Physician.

Knights of East Hall:

The Knights of East Hall, Maplewood's Boys' Club, has met on Tuesday nights at 6:30 p.m. since the beginning of this new school year. At our first meeting new officers were chosen by the boys and read as follows: Johnny Morrison, president; Duane Butherus, vice president; David Erickson, secretary; Jerry Karr, Sgt.-at-Arms; and Richard Carlson, treasurer.

On Tuesday, September 21, we were favored by some interesting films sponsored by the Champion Spark Plug Company. They were on the subject of racing. This included boat racing, airplane racing, race cars, motorcycle racing, the ignition and the spark system of your car, also.

The Knights of East Hall are looking to a very fine school year and we hope it will be very prosperous.

—David Erickson

Touch football seems to be the favorite outdoor sport during these fine October days.

Echoes From Music Lane

Music is inspirational, interesting, and educational.

The inspirational music was the Madrigals singing before Friday evening vespers, the vocal solo "I Kneel to Pray," by Shirley Aultfather, and Madrigals singing the specials, "Alleluia," and "Onward Christian Soldiers."

In our Sabbath schools we were inspired by Orlo Gilbert and Ellen Olson as they played a string duet and by Lane Schmidt singing "Teach Me to Pray."

The inspirational music for church was "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears," and "To Thee We Sing" sung by Mrs. Torkelsen and the Madrigals.

Other music that inspired us was Lane Schmidt's clarinet solo, Judy Verlo's vocal solo and the instrumental duet by Dick Jensen and Marlys Le Bard for Sabbath afternoon meetings.

The accompanists have been Sally Rushold, Carolyn Rhodes, Jeanie Rogers, Frances Barnhart, and Jan Zempel.

The interesting music numbers were the Madrigals singing in chapel and their program at the Methodist Benefit supper. Some of the most interesting numbers were "God Bless America," "There's a Whistle in the Thistle," and "Halla-le, Holla-lo," by the Madrigals. Special numbers were "Anne Laurie," by Sandra Ford, "Adoration," a violin solo by Orlo Gilbert, and a piano solo by Sally Rushold.

The educational music is found in practicing choir music and Symphonette, the lessons of voice, organ, piano, and instruments.

Each of us may gain something from at least one of these. What have you gained?

A Decade Ago

Ten years ago, one hundred sixty-one students were enrolled at Maplewood.

Instead of forty-five minute classes, the students had hour classes for the first time that year.

The Senior Class was honored at the Booster Club banquet that year. The theme of the banquet that year was "America and her Allies." Among those who had a part in the program, we found the name of Dean Torkelsen, who played in a trumpet trio that night. The names of Betty Jo Syvertson, Don Burgeson, Marian Zummach, and Herbert Senne were among those receiving banners for their faithful boosting that year. A male quartet, consisting of Max and Arlee Torkelsen, Don Burgeson, and Hartley Berlin sang "Kentucky Babe" to close the evening's program.

A team of horses from the Maplewood farm won prizes in the McLeod County Fair that year.

Blackie Says...

My name is Blackie. I am an old black dog and I live around the Maplewood farm. A few days ago I heard Miss Larsen and Mr. Adams talking. They said something about a dog book called "Beautiful Joe," so with Mr. Adams' help, I will tell you what I see and hear around the farm. Since school started, the boys have filled the silos, helped shell the corn, done a lot of fall plowing, helped combine some beans, hauled cobs and fertilizer, and fixed some fences. Bernd Krzykowski and his brother, Guenter, do the milking. They come out about five o'clock every morning to do their work. The boys are very happy just now, for we have a new milking machine, a Surge. They have everything done by 6:45, ready to go to breakfast.

At 7:30 in the morning, Bill Kanfield and Chuck Starks come out to plow or whatever is to be done that morning. Those two boys go to their classes in the afternoon. Sometimes Armond Olson comes out, too. The boys hauled two carloads of coal a couple of weeks ago. Eight boys worked on that job. Last weekend Bernd went home to visit his mother in Minneapolis. I was glad to have him come back to work on Monday.

Do you like rats? I don't! When we shelled corn a couple of weeks ago, I killed nine rats. Sometimes I can't find a rat for a month. Then some days I find several. Mr. Adams says they come here for something to eat this time of the year.

If I can get someone to help me, I will let you know what I see and hear next month.

—Your faithful friend,
Blackie

responds to the entertainment we had the evening of October 16. Some of the games that night ten years ago were "Up, Jenkins," pinning the tail on a donkey, "Naughts and Crosses," "Black Magic", throwing darts, moving pictures, and best of all, icecream and cookies in the dining room.

Ten years ago, Don Burgeson was president of the choir group.

The Knights of East Hall slept in the North Woods one night in the fall. They made their beds out of leaves or corn shocks. The next morning they had a hot breakfast and then returned to their work.

In 1944, the kitchen girls canned 5,523 quarts of fruit and vegetables. This included 684 quarts put into the new freezing unit.

PROGRESSIVE PARTIES

On Saturday night, October 16, the faculty entertained the students and visitors at a series of progressive parties in the classrooms and parlors. The students were divided into eight groups and rotated every fifteen minutes to the various places of entertainment. Games, contests, and pictures made up most of the amusements, and in the dining room icecream sandwiches were served.

Senior Personalities

Shirley Jean Aultfather:

Shirley was added to the population of Austin, Minnesota, on December 24, 1936. Eighteen happy years have gone by since then and we find her here at Maplewood in her senior year. We often see her busy mailing letters to Union College. She likes to go on shopping sprees, usually with her roommate coming along behind, carrying all the packages.

Shirley's favorite food is chow mein served at Chinese restaurants. It seems as if the Chinese restaurants fascinate her. Her pet peeve appears to be people who come into her room and drool over a certain picture.

Shirley has her eye set on college for next year, although she is undecided about her future. But whatever is held in store for her, we are sure she'll succeed.

Frances Barnhart:

"Fran" comes to us from a little town which she considers to be the best in the state, namely, Wadena. Fran is 5' 3" tall with blue eyes and brown hair.

Car riding is her favorite pastime. Her pet peeve is people who start to say something and don't finish it. Her favorite subject is American History. When it comes to the subject of food, she says her favorite is "pizza." As for her favorite sport, she loves ice skating. In the future she hopes to go to San Jose State of California. As capable as she is, we all know she will succeed in what ever she chooses.

Betty Daniels:

"Five feet three" Betty comes from Hewitt, Minnesota, which Betty thinks is the best town in the state. She has light brown hair and blue eyes. Her pet peeve is two-faced people. To be a stenographer is her ambition besides going to La Sierra College. Betty keeps busy working in the laundry. She plays her flute in Symphonette and is one of our prayer band leaders. I'm sure Betty will succeed in all she does.

Junior Borg:

Junior, a student at Maplewood for three years, hails from Nashwauk, Minnesota, up among the iron mines.

He stands 5' 11" tall, and answers to the nickname of "Red," because of the color of his hair. When I asked him about his favorite food, he thought a second, then replied, "Just food." He enjoys horseback riding very much.

Junior has been a member of the Seminar and M.C.C. for two of the three years he has been at Maplewood. He is undecided about the future, but with his nice personality and ability, we know he will succeed.

Marcia Anderson:

Marcia, who calls Mankato her home town, is one of our busiest seniors. She is a member of the Madrigals and also in choir. This is Marcia's third year at Maplewood and she says she has enjoyed every year. Marcia is 5' 4" and has brown eyes and brown hair. Her pet peeve is "people who don't keep their promises." Goulash is her favorite food and she says she can eat it anytime. She hasn't quite made up her mind what she wants to be, but we all know she will succeed in all that she does.

Missionary Volunteers In Action

Seven "Share your Faith" bands have mobilized for Christian service at Maplewood and have made plans for a semester of Sabbath activities in Christian help work. The Visitation band visited the homes of two shut-ins that first Sabbath afternoon. The Story Hour band, which met in Mrs. Davis' home, began with eight children who were more than interested in the three stories told by students from the Christian - Storytelling band—Betty Jo Walters, Pat Judd, and Duane Butherus. Six representatives from the Literature Distribution band gave out over eighty periodicals that afternoon and sixteen students visited the two Old Folks Homes in Lester Prairie. The Correspondence band wrote eight letters to shut-ins, and the Literature Mailing band and the TV and Radio band are making plans to mail out papers to distant places and distribute pamphlets respectively.

The following are the leaders and advisors of these SYF Bands:

Visitation: Sally Rushold and Owen Spencer, leaders; Mrs. Gilbert, advisor. Story Telling: Harriet Jones and Nathan Walters, leaders;

Mrs. Hill, advisor. Old Folks' Homes: Charles Petty and Shirley Wadsworth, leaders; Dean Torkelsen, advisor. Literature Distribution: Joyce Jones and Junior Borg, leaders; Don Sherwood, advisor. Literature Mailing: Morris Lehmann and Clara Roberts, leaders; William Bartlett, advisor. TV and Radio: Patsy Lou Johnson and Dick Jensen, leaders; Mrs. McCune, advisor. Correspondence: Ruth Farnes and Jimmie Burr, leaders; Miss Williams, advisor.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Burgeson visited their son Larry in a Minneapolis hospital on Sabbath, October 16.

Mr. and Mrs. William Glantz of Culbertson, Nebraska, visited at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Paul Haughey and her family at Maplewood Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale McCune visited friends at Ruthven, Iowa, over the weekend of October 16. In their absence, Mr. Davis took care of the boys in East Hall.

--- Waggin' Tongues ---

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lehmann, Joyce, Evelyn, and Harvey spent Sabbath, October 2, with their son, Morris, who is attending the Academy.

Jimmie Burr was happy to see his parents and sister on Sabbath, October 9.

Charlie Petty's parents visited him at Maplewood over the weekend of October 9.

Yvonne Peterson visited her home at Foley, Minnesota, on October 2 and 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Roberts and family and Arlean Taylor visited Clara and Raymond Roberts a few weeks ago.

Adriel Wixson and Helen Garner visited their homes in St. Paul the weekend of October 2.

Raymond Roberts and Armond Olson went to Correll with Glen Roberts, class of '54, over the weekend of October 2.

Stafford Morisset, class of '54, now attending Union College, spent the weekend of October 2 visiting friends at Maplewood.

Carol Christensen, class of '51, student nurse at Hinsdale Sanitarium, spent the weekend of October 2 visiting her parents in Hutchinson.

On Monday, October 11, the Madrigals sang at the meeting of the Methodist Ladies' Aid. There were also three solos: Orlo Gilbert, violinist; Sally Rushold, pianist, and Sandra Ford, vocalist.

Nancy Moline and Sally Rushold spent a recent weekend at their homes in Minneapolis.

On Sunday, October 3, fourteen students from Maplewood attended the concert by the United States Marine Band, which was held in Minneapolis.

Sandra Ford spent an extended weekend at her home in Rhineland, Wisconsin. She left Maplewood on September 24, and returned the 30th. While she was home, she sang at the convention of the Nursing Home Operators of Wisconsin.

Joyce Jones had a little accident in the Craftshop last Tuesday. She was piling boards on a cart and ran a splinter into her hand. She had to have four stitches taken in her hand. Now she can't write her six weeks' tests, nor anything else, either.

Miss Lothian has been busy preparing the flowers for winter. She dug the bulbs out so old "Jack Frost" won't get them.

Stanley Trana and Freida Denny visited relatives in St. Paul the weekend of October 2.

The "Joneses" and the "Judds" visited their homes on October 2.

It seems that the students aren't the only ones trying to learn how to drive. Rumor has it that Miss Williams is also learning to drive.

Betty Daniels and Patsy Lou Johnson went to their homes over a recent weekend.

"We," the members of the Senior class basketball team, wish to thank the senior girls for the fine support given us at our last basketball game, when we defeated the juniors. Thank you, girls. Keep up the good work.

Dick Haughey returned to Maplewood from his two-weeks' visit with relatives in Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Butherus and Duane visited Jennifer at Union College over the weekend of October 9.

David Erickson visited friends in the Cities over the weekend of October 9.

Mr. Thomas Thompson, Dean of Boys at Plainview Academy in South Dakota, came to Maplewood to visit the McCune family October 9.

Tom Bosanco visited his home in Dodge Center recently.

Lovina Larsen visited at the home of her brother in the northern part of Minnesota over the weekend of October 2.

This is the week of our six weeks' tests. Everyone is studying very hard to achieve high grades.

The Maplewood Academy Board met at the Academy on Monday, October 11 to plan future improvement for the school.

The new addition to the Craftshop is progressing very nicely. The walls of cement blocks look very nice. The roof is being built as we go to press.

The girls on third floor missed their night watch over the weekend of October 9. She must have them well trained as they were surprisingly quiet after lights out.

Some new furniture has been added to the girls' dorm. Several of the rooms have new chests and chairs.

Has anyone heard how the birds are all talking about the weather "being strictly for the people?"

Miss Larsen was called to South Dakota on October 8 because of the death of her oldest brother, who was killed in a two-car collision near Yankton, South Dakota. She returned to her duties at Maplewood on October 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Julius visited their daughter, Sandra, at Maplewood on October 2.

Mrs. C. S. Syvertson and Calvin of Minneapolis visited Darlene on a recent Sabbath.

Sports Roundup

Another basketball game was played between the Senior "Royals," and the Junior "Gophers," on Saturday night, October 9, in the Academy gym. The "Royals" won this game by a margin of 36 to 29. The "Gophers" were held to only 2 points during the third period, but came back with a 13-point outburst in the final quarter.

After the game we enjoyed some skating. Then Mr. Gilbert showed some films, which we enjoyed, and then we went off to get some "shut eye."

See you next month.

More Waggin'

Sam Campbell's new book, "Loony Coon," is a very popular book at Maplewood these days. It is especially interesting since we saw the author's film of some of the raccoons.

Elders H. A. Brown of Washington D. C., and Elder E. F. Finck of St. Paul visited Maplewood on September 29 in the interest of the Temperance work. Elder Brown spoke in chapel to the students and faculty and the visiting members of the Southwest Dorcas Federation. At joint worship that evening, a film on temperance was shown.

One night during the week of exams, Miss Lothian took her family of girls for a nice long walk. They felt refreshed for their tests the next day after a good night's sleep.

Mrs. Leland Torkelsen is visiting at the home of her son, Max, in Jamestown, North Dakota this week.

It seems that we have some new musical talent in West Hall this year. After the study period is over in the evening, Dixie Oglesby and Evelyn Kisor entertain the girls with singing and guitar playing.

There were five girls that ran all the way from the bridge to the girls' back entrance. They were Harriet Jones, Barbara Judd, Joyce Jones, Darlene Syvertson, and Eleanor Olson.

Maplewood Spice

One day in American History class, Mr. McCune was outwitted during a quiz. Ellen Olson asked him if the answer to a certain question was a French or an English name. In answering, Mr. McCune said, "Isn't Andre a French name?"

Orlo Gilbert has found a new way to get speed out of his car (?). He puts moth balls in the gas tank. A chemical reaction takes place and he has been able to go as fast as 65 MPH!

Sabbath afternoon whe a group was driving to Cokato to distribute literature, they approached a pond. One of the girls in the car said, "Oh, look at that crane in the pond!" Then she said, "Oh, look, there is a whole row of them!" As they got nearer the pond, they realized that what she saw was a row of fence posts, not cranes. Oh, well, cranes resemble fence posts, don't they, Hazel?

A few nights ago, several girls were talking about aunts and uncles. All at once one of the girls came up with this bright remark: "Ya, Marvin Osvold was an aunt before he was born!"

Attention, all girls! Jack Sutton has given us a new recipe — one for "Honeymoon Salad." The ingredients, lettuce alone!

Some girls were waiting in line for breakfast. Some were studying their American History lesson. One girl asked, "Who was Grenville?" Another said that he was just a mere man. "No," said another, "if it wasn't for him, we couldn't send any letters. You see, he was the man who started the Stamp Act."

It seems that Darlene likes dark, secluded places. She fell into her closet one night and pulled the door with her. There was no latch on the inside, and the lights were out. She pounded loudly on the door. Monitor Ruthie tried to quiet her, but she was more persistent than ever. She banged on the door again. Finally Ruthie came to see what was the matter. As Darlene came out, she remarked, "Whew, it surely was hot in there!"

After study period one night, three girls were in a room talking and setting their hair. Suddenly the lights blinked once and then went out. One of the girls said very disgustedly, "This is one time I could use Mr. Sherwood's flashlight!"

Dick Jensen's relatives have been visiting him lately! The other morning he woke and found a mouse beside him. Maybe the fact that Dick had eaten lots of cheese for supper had something to do with the visitor!

The weekend that Sharon Fowler went home, she and her family drove past a dead skunk lying by the side of the road. Sharon very excitedly said, "That's the first real live skunk I have seen!"
