Goreword . . .

Throughout the fiber or the timber of academy life, runs an oft-recurring grain. At times it is found, easily recognizable near the surface; again, it is hidden under the bark. The staff, sawing into the wood, has brought a few splinters of Maplewood activities to view. It is the sincere wish of the staff that THE MAPLE LOG will bring many pleasant moments to its readers.

Dedication . . .

To the Alumni of Maplewood Academy who have trod the path we are now pursuing, and who made so great a contribution toward the high standards of Maplewood, we, the class of '41 dedicate this edition of the Maple Log, with the hope that this record of our school life will recall pleasant memories of their school days.

Principal's Message

HE WELL-EDUCATED Christian student of today regards his knowledge as a sacred trust. He looks upon it as a reservoir of power to be used not for selfish purposes, but for the betterment of humanity.

His education has elevated his mind, refined his character, and enobled his whole life. He knows that to withhold the giving of himself to the great need of the world is to commit mental and spiritual suicide.

To the educated man there is little satisfaction to be gained from doing things that hold no difficulties. He is looking for the tough tasks which bring to him a keen sense of satisfaction when he has won the fight. Success to him is sweet. He conquers loss and overcomes defeat. He uses the torch of learning—the rays of divinely-inspired knowledge—to light up the path of life for the less fortunate.

If you possess ability, the many opportunities which surround you mean that you have the commission in this troubled age to do something for your fellows. If you have a message which carries freedom for people enslaved by ignorance and sin, you have no right to suppress it. Your enlarged learning means an increased obligation to live your life up to the peak of your gift. Your duty is to deliver your message to the world with all the manliness, Christian enthusiasm, and power you possess. "The greatest thing you can do is to be what you ought to be."

Medical Corps

MEDICAL CADET CORPS has been formed at Maplewood Academy with forty-five boys enrolled to train for special military service under the command of Lieutenant L. A. Matthews. This action is in line with the general policy of the General Conference to assist the U. S. defense program in every respect consistent with the religious principles of the denomination.

The course under which the boys are training is similar to the R. O. T. C. found in various private schools and colleges and is accepted for credit in the curriculum of the school.

Army heads in Washington also recognize it officially. Special arrangements with Conference authorities provides that Uncle Sam will allocate our cadets immediately to the Medical Corps instead of to the combatant service.

The corps at Maplewood was the first of its kind to be organized in the Northern Union Conference, but the other academies quickly followed the example. There are three units in Iowa alone.

The boys drill in the gymnasium at Maple-wood every Tuesday evening from six-thirty to seven-thirty. Anyone interested is invited to be present and inspect the work.

Lieutenant Matthews received his training at Union College, from which he holds his commission. The unit has a full complement of noncommissioned officers.

HE CHURCH SCHOOL OPENED last fall with an enrollment of thirty-seven.

Mrs. H. B. Douglass and her assistants, Mrs. L. A. Matthews and Eunice Skadsheim, teach grades one through eight. The largest class is the eighth grade with eight pupils.

We are grateful for this church school and the enthusiastic group of thirty-seven which is the largest attendance in recent years.

Our Music Department

Is MAPLEWOOD A MUSIC SCHOOL?, was one question asked. No, but it is a musical school. There are so many chances for experience in all lines of music. At the present, the band is an organization of 35 members. Then there is the Sabbath School Orchestra, Choral Club, Chorus, and Glee Clubs.

Harmony, Conducting I, and Music Survey are courses which are taken by quite a number of students.

Every spring the Choral Club tours Minnesota, visiting many churches in various parts of the state. The band usually takes a trip to Minneapolis for an outstanding concert.

A large majority of students take some music of one kind or another, which includes voice, piano, or instrumental.

While talking on the subject of music, the Competitive Recital must not be forgotten. Every year the girls against the boys work for the Etching to decorate their dormitory.

Religious Activities

ET US GO through a week of religious activities at Maplewood. First, we have the Sabbath School crganized to save souls and to give students instruction in leading out and taking part in religious enterprises. It consists of four divisions: the senior, the junior, the primary, and the kindergarten.

It's now after dinner. Who are those students? They are the Literature Band spreading the Gospel in each home with their truth-filled papers.

Every Sabbath afternoon at three o'clock is Missionary Volunteer hour. The musical programs at the beginning of the meeting is a special feature this year. The progressive classes also provide wholesome projects and definite aims for each Missionary Volunteer member. The programs each Sabbath present some special subject of interest to everyone.

Monday morning is here, but before showing you the Bible Doctrines, Early Church History, and the Ancient History classes, I'll take you to morning worship. At the close of the day we again seek God in worship.

Maplewood students believe prayer is their only source of power. Chapel talks every Wednesday are inspirational, after which the prayer bands meet. Thus praying in groups is another asset in each student's spiritual life.

On Thursdays the Colporteur Band meets to learn more how to bring people the silent messenger of the Gospel in the form of the printed page. This Band keeps alive the love for service.

The Sabbath hours are again upon us. Vesper Service renders a marked effect on many a life, for you not only are spoken to, but also have an opportunity to speak.

Last, but not least, is the Senior Prayer Band. Every Senior cherishes this time of spiritual refreshment.

These are, briefly described, Maplewood's activities that train the heart.

West Hall

IFE BEGINS very early in West Hall—at 4:30, when the meal girls get up to prepare breakfast; and it ends at 11:30, when our preceptress retires for the night.

We girls of West Hall greatly appreciate the improvements that have been ours to enjoy. Among this year's additions have been the monitors' chairs and desks on both second and third floors, the game table set for the parlor, and the lace and Venetian blinds for the hall windows.

We have enjoyed many pleasant occasions sponsored by the Crescit Eundo Club, the girls' organization.

Remember when we serenaded the boys by waking them early that October morning to the tune of those familiar songs and the cheery invitation to a pancake breakfast in the north woods, and also that full evening of entertainment in February at the annual Girls' Open House with George Washington as the general theme?

We shall always remember the months we spent in West Hall as one of the high spots in our lives.

AST HALL is a home to us. There are thirty-two rooms in our house, and we have forty-five boys in our family. A life in a home such as this is an education in itself, for here we learn to get along with our fellow companions with whom we live, learn, work, and play every day.

We are proud of our family and home. Our recreation room affords many hours of pleasure to those who like table tennis. In our parlor we gather morning and evening to gain spiritual inspiration through praise and worship.

Our social life is not neglected, for we have the Woden Club which meets weekly in our parlor. And like any other home, we have our "Spring House Cleaning" every year when Boys' Open House rolls around. It's a great life.

LOWELL PLINKE

Speech Activities

RS. L. W. ROTH HAS CHARGE of our speech work, which includes the classes and the private work. She started the department three years ago and each year it gains popularity with the Juniors and Seniors.

The speech work has to do with prepared and impromptu speeches, debating, impersonating, etc.

Several programs are sponsored throughout the year by the class, expression students, and speech choir.

Three speech students were sent to the Music Festival this year. A number are chosen from the journalism class to do the editorial work on the "Northerner" each semester.

This year the Senior English class sponsored the Good English week. They were given tags with which to tag the other three classes for mistakes they made in speaking English. The Good English week had three outstanding features: a spell down between the Seniors and Freshmen, and the Juniors and Sophomores; a poster contest, and a court trial scene held in the gymnasium the following Saturday night.

The Bindery and The Print Shop

If YOU WERE to visit Maplewcod Academy, I am sure you would want to take the opportunity of going through our bookbindery. Mr. G. C. Curry, who is the bindery superintendent would gladly show you through the several departments where the books are rebound, and also the department where articles from the National Geographic magazines are bound into pamphlets. All library books are bound in newly designed covers.

Many students earn a large share of their way through school by working in the bindery. The average number of workers in the winter ranges from sixteen to eighteen and in the summer from twenty to twenty-five. Every Sunday morning before beginning work, the workers gather for a few minutes of devotion and a game or two for recreation.

Mr. Torkelsen, the field representative, spends his entire time out in the field soliciting binding. The bindery uses a sedan delivery truck for transporting the books.

We are also fortunate in having a modern equipped print shop under the supervision of Mr. O. E. Simon. We have a cylinder press, job presses, and an Intertype typesetting machine. A considerable amount of new type type has been added during the past year.

The printing of books is being done, as well as job printing. A number of boys earn a considerable amount of their way through school by working in the print shop here, and then going into college and working in the print shop there.

Be sure to visit our bookbindery and print shop the next time you stop at Maplewood.

Craftshop and Repair Shop

HE CRAFTSHOP has an important place in the industries at Maplewood. For the past two years it has been located in the basement of the gymnasium, where all the work can be centralized, rather than being spread out through three buildings as it formerly was. During the school year five boys work there under the direction of Mr. Ford. Some of the products of the Craftshop are ironing boards, several kinds of folding lawn chairs, window screens, and trellises. This past year the shop has rebuilt all the dining room tables and has a new cart for washing glasses, a new desk for the library, besides some screens and storm windows for the school.

The headquarters of the repair shop are in the basement of the main building. With Mr. Roth in charge, five boys keep the buildings repaired and frequently add improvements.

Kitchen Laundry

Bakery Dining Room

HE KITCHEN, BAKERY, AND LAUNDRY are very vital parts of Maplewood Academy.

The twenty girls employed in the kitchen assist the matron and assistant matron in preparing the meals for the 104 students served in the dining room. In connection with the kitchen a bakery is operated, which provides bread, cookies, pies, and rolls for serving.

The seven laundry girls are not surprised to have 125 shirts to launder each week. Many other items such as dresses, sheets, pillow cases, linens, and miscellaneous articles keep them busy during the week.

THE ART OF ARTS

"Some maids are gifted with the art Of painting like the masters; To dullest canvas they impart The freshness of the pastures.

While others, with their ready pen,
Find hours of busy pleasure
In polished prose, or then, again
In light poetic measure.

Another, like a woodland bird
May set the sad world ringing
With carols sweet as ever heard,
Here is the art of singing.

But there's a maid and there's an art
To which the world is looking,
The nearest art unto the heart,
The good old art of cooking."

JOYCE JOHNSON

The Farm

THE PURPOSE of the Maplewood Academy farm is to furnish food for the dining room and to assist boys in getting a Christian education.

Each year the farm furnishes enough labor to pay the expenses of ten students for one year. While earning these labor credits, students also are receiving valuable lessons in practical living and are learning to do things with their hands.

The farm has a total of 160 acres, 40 of which are in building sites and pasture. The rest of the farm is excellent crop land. The crops raised in a typical year are: oats, rye, alfalfa, garden crops, small fruits, flax, soy beans, sugar beets, corn, and sudan grass.

The farm endeavors to maintain the same high standards in its operations as are followed in the scholastic field. A fine dairy herd of 60 pure-bred and grade Guernseys is part of the live-stock. Milk from this herd supplies the dining room and teachers' families, and the surplus is sold to a local creamery.

In recent years a number of cattle have been sold for dairy purposes to local dairymen and some have been shipped out of the state to other herds. All replacements for the herd have been raised on the farm.

CALVES

DAIRY BARN

At the present time the farm has four horses and two colts. Sufficient colts have been raised to meet the requirements of the farm, and some horses have been sold. Thus the farm is able to have plenty of horsepower without spending money for horses. The farm also has a good tractor which is used for the heavier field work.

A flock of about 30 ewes provide a good income from lambs and wool sold, and at the same time help keep the playground and pastures more sightly.

Each year above 400 pullets are purchased. These, with the old hens retained from the previous year, provide eggs for the dining room and an amount for sale.

The Maplewood Academy farm is accomplishing its purposes.

Nov. 16—The Parkinson trio from Iowa made its annual visit here and showed us many ancient musical instruments.

Dec. 7—The speech department presented the program of the evening. We hope the audience forgave us for our trembling knees as this was the first speech recital of the year.

Dec. 9- The seniors presented a unique Candle Light program at 6:15 A. M., which consisted of Christmas carols and a Christmas breakfast in the dining room.

Dec. 15—The Christmas chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Layman, presented a cantata this evening.

Dec. 18—Santa Claus came tonight and presented each student with a gift, even one of the smallest members of our school family He gave Donny Bieber a tricycle.

Dce. 19-28—Vacation came for all but a few who had to stick by the "stuff".

Jan. 21—After hobbling back from ice skating, Evelyn Sherrig made a visit to the doctor and was informed that her leg was broken.

Jan. 25—Elder and Mrs. Lauda were here for the week end. Elder Lauda showed pictures of Junior camp, Yellowstone National Park, and last year's Commencement, which brought back many fond memories.

Feb. 4—The Annual campaign was started. The annual was not named until Feb. 7 when Mrs. Roth and Vivian Roberts tied each having the same inspiration of naming it "Maple Log".

Feb. 23—Don't you remember? This was girls' "Open House". The girls on the program were dressed in Martha Washington dresses as it was a patriotic program celebrating Washington's birthday.

March 7—The Juniors popped their thermometer, as they were the first to reach their goal during the Maple Log campaign.

March 8—The Medical Corps under the direction of Lieutenant Matthews presented an interesting program.

Calendar of Events

March 10—Oh, yes! This was the day Walter Berthelsen had his appendectomy (or something).

March 12—The Sophomores presented their "Coming-out" program during the chapel period.

March 15—The Seniors gave their last will and testament to the school at their "Coming-out" program.

March 16 — The Freshmen presented their "Commencement Exercises of '44.

March 18 — The Juniors, dressed in blue and white the chapel, also decorated in blue and white this evening and gave their "Coming-out" program. They presented each of their sponsors with a large primrose.

March 23—"The Seasons on Parade" was the theme of the Boys' Open House. Do you remember how the patriotic streamers came fluttering down, while the band was playing?

March 24-29—Elder Wiest conducted the spring Week of Prayer.

March 25—Maplewood accepted an invitation from the high school to come and enjoy a program by the University Concert Band.

March 29—This was the evening of the first Musical recital of the year.

March 29—It seems that spring is finally on its way, because now the water is flowing over the dam on the Little Crow river.

April 2—The Remodeling of the library was completed. The draperies, tables, plants, chairs, linoleum, and new entrance to the annex, surely made it appear like a new place.

April 4, 5—A group of five Unionites visited here during the week end giving a typical Union College Vesper service Friday evening and a musical program Saturday night.

April 16—The Luce-Line creaked as all of the Maplewood students and faculty boarded and went to Minneapolis where they spent the day in an ϵ ducational way.

April 20-22—The seniors made their annual trip to visit Union College.

April 25-27—Everyone that couldn't go was very envious of the few fortunate ones that visited Plainview Academy for the Music Festival.

May 3—The Choral Club members are enjoying this week end as they make their tours of the state.

May 16-18 — Well, it's here at last—Commencement, Imean. We all thought it would be a happy time for all the seniors, but it appears that we all hate to leave after all. Some balmy day in April or May—Sunburned, tired, and tanned, the juniors and seniors returned from a memoriable picnic. "Thank you, Juniors."

The Booster Club

HE BOOSTER CLUB is as important in the life of Maplewood students as any organization could possibly be to any school. The Booster Club is an organization that holds true school spirit through and through.

The outstanding aim and purpose of the Booster Club is to fill Maplewood to its capacity with students. It brings to new students a desire to come to Maplewood, and to the old students it brings a desire to return to a school they have grown to love.

Loyal Booster Club representatives are scattered far and wide. They never pass up the opportunity to speak a word for Maplewood and to let others know of the rich benefits it holds for one and all.

The Booster Club is an active organization. Many are the letters sent from students to friends, urging them to join them at a school that they too will enjoy. At the close of a summer of work, we look forward to the Annual Booster Club Banquet as an outstanding event of the school year. At the banquet prizes are given for letters written and students brought to the school. Maplewood pennants are given to all those who have written a required number of Booster Club letters.

Here's to the Booster Club—an organization that keeps alive the spirit for which Maplewood Academy is famed.
