In Love We Turn

In the ebb and flow of time and circumstances you have been ready to guide, understand, and direct our paths. Many times we do not understand why some things must be so, yet we know that the guidelines set here are for our benefit. As time has passed, we have come to know, love, and appreciate you more. We are thankful for your ever present example of unselfish service and constant devotion to your God, to your church, and to your fellow men. Our campus has seen many changes; changes which you have helped to create. And for this we are also thankful. Because you have been always near to help and boost our school spirit, and for your long hours of devotion, we, the students of Maplewood Academy, turn in love to dedicate this Maple Log to you - Elder and Mrs. Lyle C. Anderson.

Essential for a smoothly-running school is a dedicated school board. This year these men have put in many long hours of prayerful planning and have made possible a successful school year. We appreciate their guidance.

Editor's Note

As the year draws to a close, we look back with pleasure upon the events that have filled our cup of memories to over-flowing. We have attempted to capture the best and most outstanding of these memories between the covers of the 1970 Maple Log.

We consider ourselves very fortunate to have an advisor as capable as Mr. Barcenas to help us over the rough spots and I cannot adequately express my thanks to my assistant and associate editors, Carleen Anderson and Katie Jo Herber, the literary editors, Bonnie Burgeson, Janet Aulick, and Jo Ellen Blake for their cooperation and patience. I also want to thank my typists, Donna Olson, Lynette Flemmer, and Margie Krassin, my photographers, Bruce Christensen, Herb Medford, and Bruce Bray, and my business managers, Mike Galbraith and Doug Flemmer, for their sincereness and helpfulness whenever I needed it. They were great!

We hope that we have succeeded in our endeavor to present a good annual to you, the students of Maplewood Academy. With the sincere wish that each of you will find among these pages something special - something you will remember for a long, long, time - to you we give this 1970 "Maple Log".

Foreword

To everything there is a season and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

A time to wonder what lies ahead ...

A time when friends are made and

A time for them to go.

A time to question and

A time to believe,

A time for laughter and

A time for tears,

... and a time to reflect.

These reflections we cherish.

Among the organizations on our campus is a select group known as the Master Guides. These are students preparing for life and its challenges by striving for honors. Crafts, nature, recreation, and spiritual horizons are met as little by little they realize a goal of investiture and the treasured title of Master Guide.

Maplewood students like to share their ideas with others. Teams of crusaders members from time to time are seen leaving early on a Sabbath morning, headed for churches throughout the state. Providing special music and sermonettes, students and churches alike share a blessing. The Crusaders sponsor is Elder Wayne Anderson. Rick Wilmont is leader, Bonnie Burgeson is assistant leader. Dennis Pumford and Marilyn Walcott are Public Relations Secretaries.

Temperance

"Dear Mike,"

An important organization on Maplewood's campus is the Temperance Club. Orations are given, jingles composed, and posters drawn. Bonnie Miller's 1st place Oration, "A letter to Mike," expressed a teenager's longings for the return of her older brother, who was on LSD. With a goal of sharing Christian ideals with others, the Temperance Club gives an opportunity for anyone to take part.

Donna at the organ.

In the quietness of the vesper hour, our hearts and minds are turned again to God. Throughout the year we have had many inspiring and thought-provoking services designed for greater insight of our Father. Guest speakers, special music, and soft organ music set the mood for this hallowed evening. This is the place where we all join together in silent praise. "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things." Now is the time to meditate.

Sabbath Afternoon

Some students go out to spread the joy which they have found in Christ.

Sabbath afternoons can be very interesting. Some students go out with their Bible in hand to present others with the love of Christ. Still others have groups formed to discuss problems they may have, or the love of Christ which they have found.

Mr. Gardner explains a question to someone in a discussion group.

Niki welcomes us all to M.V.

In the quiet reverie of Sabbath afternoon, we find ourselves in the solitude of the M.V. hour. Throughout the year we enjoy films, singspirations, skits, and various programs. These programs are planned for the Youth of the church, and inspire us to walk with the Master. Several projects sponsored by the M.V. Society have been scholarships for oversea students, servicemen packages, and items for the church. M.V. services are a time to reflect on our relationships with our Heavenly Father and absorb and radiate His love.

This to us is the A.S.B. Picnic. The first Sunday in October dawned chilly, gray, and a little bit misty. But it takes more than that to dampen 235 competitive spirits. Even those not participating were eager spectators to such events as the mile run, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, and the different sprints. Excitement reached its climax as the deciding basketball and volleyball games found the juniors and seniors tied.

Another A.S.B. Picnic was over, but there remained the memories of fun and school spirit.

Look thru any window now; what do you see? Dust a flyin' all around; Oh! what can this be? Must be Girls Dorm Open House. Scrub those rooms up clean! We're gonna show those North Hall Knights some rooms worth being seen. Look thru any window now. It's a different scene. Hair spray mist and perfume rare. She'll look just like a queen! Guys start calling for their dates, in each eye a gleam. Some are short and some are tall, and some are in between. Look thru any window now. Whispers in the air mingle with the candle light and capture moods so rare. Drifting thru the dim lit halls, beauty greets the eye. Our enchanted evening ends, with a film and fond goodby.

Carson Gardner, editor-in-chief of the Maple Leaf, welcomes all to the Christmas Banquet.

Part of the evening's entertainment by Jana and Margie.

Maple Leaf

Christmas is a special time of the year for all people. As we approach this joyous season, there comes the excitment of the Christmas Banquet.

Corsages are a must for this occasion, and especially for that special date with that extra-special boy. As the Banquet draws near, there is the hurry and scurry of ordering a boutonierre, finishing a formal, and adding that last touch to a lovely hairdo.

Nervousness reaches its peak when you hear your name being called over the intercom. Fumbled fingers pin on boutonierres and slip on coats.

The "ohs" and "ahs" too are a part of all this. These words escape our lips as we enter the decorated banquet hall. A delicious meal is served followed by a relaxing program. We are at ease now and ready to enjoy the delightful film, "Summer Magic." The end of the film leads us to the end of the Banquet. As we say good night to our belles and beaus, we cherish this enchanted evening.

Mary Lou, Lynette, and LaVonne sing of Christmas.

Children's Christmas Party

A TIME FOR SPREADING CHEER

Each year at Christmas time, we enjoy sharing with underprivileged children some of our yule tide happiness. Children are recommended by welfare agencies for the party, complete with Santa Claus, presents, stockings, and trees. We enjoyed being "big brothers and sisters" to the children almost as much as they enjoyed the evening. The children's smiles and laughter well made up for the time spent and preparations made.

Once upon a time not so very long ago, there lived in a dorm 124 girls of various sizes, shapes, and hair colors. Their days came ... Rising bells, breakfast bells, worship bells, class bells, bells, bells, bells ... and, their days went. There was always something special to look forward to. Little things, like a letter from home, a present from a "secret sis," town day, the last nite being roombound, a special telephone call, and finally crawling into bed at the end of each day. Sometimes extra special things happened, "secret sis" parties, serenading the guys, hayrides, taffy pulls, Senior dedications, Girls' Open House, and then the Christmas Banquet. Weekends were always special, Friday nite candlelite singspiration, Sabbath morning breakfast in bed, singing bands, and Saturday nights. Many things happened that the 124 girls of Maplewood Academy girls' dorm would never forget. There was the morning underclassmen woke and found the dorm decorated for Christmas, the carols around the tree, the informal "gab fests, " and the many friends made. Perfumes and powders, squeals and giggles, popcom and pizzas. Velvet and lace, formals and flowers, secrets and schemes, and sugar and spices. Isn't that what Girls' Dorms are made of?

Three top choices for Sweetheart Queen.

Suspense has been broken. Sweetheart Queen is Beverly Wheeling with Nancy Shepherd and Vickie Jonietz as runner-ups.

Boys' Dorm Life

There was a man who lived in a dorm with so many boys he never had a spare moment. In other words, Mr. Brown's job is a big one and keeps him quite busy. Having a new dorm this year, our family of boys has grown quite a bit from years past.

This year we had an active dorm life. In the fall there is football in wich almost everyone either watched or played. When the snow and cold weather comes, volleyball and basketball are the biggest sports on campus and the boys really go out for it.

In the winter, we enjoy ice skating and playing hockey, which really became a big activity this winter. Football in the snow is another game that is played with great fun and cold hands.

At night, things are pretty much geared for study, but sometimes you wonder just how much of it gets done. There is always popcorn, pizza, and pop somewhere in the dorm and the kitchenette is always in use. All in all, a big thanks is given to Mr. Brown.

The Maplewood All Stars.

Mr. Wally Fox this year created a really fine All-Star basketball team of eight players. In the guard positions, Dick Baker and Darrell Haugen are starters, and Virgil Heinrich a strong reserve player. Starting forwards are Darrell Dickhaut and Rick Ellstrom, with Carson Gardner as a reserve player. The forwards were a strong part of the team, both in pulling down rebounds and in scoring points, Rick Ellstrom usually leading the scoring attack. The starting center is Jerry Bitzer, with Chris Rueb as a strong back-up man in this position. The center is a key position and helps to promote good teamwork. Practicing twice a week, the team goes through various drills on basketball skills and tries to master a few key plays.

A tense moment ...

Imagine this scene ...

PLACE: Maplewood Bus

"Has anyone seen folder member 3?" "Wait!" "I left my pillow." "Joni, did you bring your shades?" "Are the robes on the bus?" "Ouch! You're stepping on me." "Well, what are you doing on the floor?" "My music fell under the seat!" "Whose clothes bag fell on my head?" "Did the trumpet trio bring any instruments?" "On no, Jeff has his camera!" "Let's go, we're fifteen minutes late already!"

And so, another journey for the Choraliers begins. The Choraliers, consisting of 19 Junior and Senior voices and an accompanist, tours through Minnesota and South Dakota each year. We thoroughly enjoy each place we visit and everyone looks forward to the friendly hospitality and delicious food that accompanies our concerts. As a group or individual we are anxious to use our talents to show others Christ through music. Of course, "practice makes perfect," and four times a week finds us rehearsing in the music building. The experiences and memories gained by being a member of this group are never to be forgotten.

Mr. Leukert is thought of not only as our very fine director, but holds our affection as the head of the Choralier "family." Under his expert guidance we sing as one voice.

The members of Choir really look forward to their rehearsals this year. We have one of the largest choirs ever with 60 voices. The music is challenging and good experience for all. Many long hours were spent learning parts of the Messiah, which gave a thrill and sense of accomplishment to all who participated. One of the highlights of every year is the Choir Festival which was held here at Maplewood this year.

Maplewood is proud to have an outstanding band this year. Our director, Mrs. C. A. Brown, has combined her wealth of talent, personality, and inspiration to form a musical group we can all be proud of. Some of their highlights include concerts, tours, and occasional band parties. During rehearsals each piece is practiced till perfect. The blending of mellow tones and casual rhythms create delightful tunes and capture the imagination of the audience.

Attention editors! There will be a meeting at 8:30 Sunday in the library.

Bring on the scissors, glue, tape, galleys, paper, dummy, pen, pencils, marking pens, pictures and don't forget a ruler!

Putting the paper together for the printers is the last step of many preceeding ones. The reporters get their assignments and in turn, turn them into the typists. The typists do their job and then Mrs. Lang proof-reads them and takes them to the printers to be typed. The photographer turns in the pictures and the editors finish up the job with the layout.

And there you have it, the Maple Leaf!

With a banquet, ski picnic, and trophy to aim for, a feverish pace is set and kept as opposite dorms compete. Side leaders Joni Anderson and Debby Gray, Tim Herber and Doug Flemmer led out in a very successful campaign. We recall the pep rallies, piles of pink and blue subs, brags and boasts, alternate hopes and fears, last precious pennies disappearing into the sock, and seemingly endless money raising projects. $4,400 came in surpassing our goal by $1,200. And, the guys managed to keep their trophy for another year.

Mr. Brown gets "Caught up" in the enthusiasm.

The first reaction.

Maple Log Staff

See Mary Lou. She is the editor. What does she tell her staff? "Jump up, girls!" "Jump up, boys!" The deadline is coming! The deadline is coming soon. Mary Lou is right. Run, run, run. Run from Bruce. Why are people running? Bruce has his camera out. Oh, oh, oh! See Mike smiling. Why is Mike smiling? He is getting ads. Why do people buy the ads? Mike says "Ads are very cheap." Hurry, hurry, hurry. Time is getting short. See the typists. Erase, erase, erase. They are getting tired. Lynette's rollers are falling out. Look at the Assistant Editors. Katie Jo has one eye shut. Carleen has one open. They work together good. How long before the Log is done? Janet, Jo, and Bonnie are thinking very hard. This is something new. They write, write, write, write. "Euchh," says Jo. "Euchh, " says Janet. "Euchh, " says Bonnie. They write it all again. The deadlines are come and gone. See the people sleeping. Finally. They are done with the Log. Finally. Oh, oh, "Jump up!" says the bell. "It is time for school." "Euchh," they all say. Oh, see Mary Lou get out of bed! Her eyes are not open. Her slippers are on the wrong feet. She cannot find the door. But Mary Lou is smiling. Why is Mary Lou smiling?
