

Wednesday Trivia Question:

In 1912, camp meeting was held in Central Park located in what town that was the site of an infamous "wild west" bank robbery which had taken place in 1876?

Trivia Answer:

The site of the 1912 camp meeting was in Northfield where the James-Younger Gang had tried to rob the First National Bank in 1876 with their efforts greatly spoiled when townspeople took up arms against them.

Lovely Central Park in Northfield with it's central fountain and diagonal walkways was used for the 1912 camp meeting and it still stands today much like it looked in 1912.

Notable guests included Ole A. Olson, prior General Conference President who had previously ministered in Minnesota for quite some time.
